

Mei Mitsui

Graduate of the Nagoya University, G30 Law Program

Current Position:

MA Candidate, Graduate School of Public Policy (MPP/IP)
The University of Tokyo

2023-present

Education:

The University of San Carlos
Cebu, The Philippines

2016-2018

Bachelor of Laws
G30 Law Program, Nagoya University

2019-2023

Master of Public Policy
The University of Tokyo, Japan

2023-present

Striking outcomes while at Nagoya University:

Awards and Prizes:

JASSO Scholar

2021-2023

Graduate School of Law Valedictorian

2023

Faculty of Law Graduation Thesis and Excellence Award

2024

Internships and experiences:

Participant and Team Rep, The 19th Intercollegiate Negotiation Competition

2020

Research Assistant to Professor David Green, Nagoya University

2022

Ambassador and Sentaq Project Leader, Youth & United Nations Global Alliance

2022-2023

Member and Secretary, Nagoya University Co-op Foreign Students Organization

2021-2023

NUEMI Tutor for Exploration to Japan, Migration to Japan, International Politics

2021-2023

Striking outcomes after Nagoya University:

First Prize at the Global Public Policy Network Competition, Paris

Feb. 2024

Sustainability Intern Analyst at Asuene K.K.

2024-present

Teaching Assistant at The University of Tokyo

2023-present

A Message of Encouragement for Future G30 Students:

Take advantage of the opportunities at Nagoya University! The university offers not only academic growth but also extracurricular development. When I started my first year, I was excited but uncertain about what to pursue. Over time, I developed a passion for immigration policy and political science while becoming part of an amazing student-led organization. The professors in the Faculty of Law made learning enjoyable, and the curriculum gave me the confidence to further my studies. Take your time, and let your passion guide you!