On the 28th of March!

Study in Central Japan Information Session in New Delhi, INDIA

The Central Japan region, encompassing Nagoya City and Aichi Prefecture, is one of Japan's major economic hubs. With an impressive 95% employment rate, Nagoya is recognized as Japan's manufacturing capital. Aichi Prefecture, home to globally renowned companies such as Toyota and Lexus, is at the heart of Japan's automobile and aerospace industries. The region also boasts a dynamic IT startup ecosystem, actively seeking to recruit international talent.

Thus, Nagoya University and Nagoya Institute of Technology — two of the leading national universities in Aichi Prefecture, are teaming up with Japan Foundation to hold a Study in Japan Information Session in New Delhi, India.

We are delighted to invite students and their guardians living in New Delhi to the Study in Central Japan Seminar on March 28th! The event will take place from 13:00 to 15:00 at Sakura Hall in the Japan Foundation Office in New Delhi.

If you're interested in studying in Japan and exploring career opportunities in Central Japan, this seminar is for you! Attendance numbers are limited so sign up now!
